City To Survey For Street Plan

MAYOR SEEKS 70-BLOCK TRY BY SUMMER END

The City Council Tuesday voted to survey Cameron streets for the prospect of starting a resurfacing and curb-gutter program on an assessment basis.

Mayor Bassel Wilson told the Herald he hoped that some 60 or 70 blocks possibly could be completed under such a program on a contract basis.

The program, proposed to get underway this summer, would be completed on a traffic-need basis, City Secretary Buddy Fuller said.

Fuller said the Council seeks to select a specified number of blocks along main traffic arteries needing resurfacing or initial paving as well as curb and gutter.

In a regular Council meeting, Councilmen also approved first reading of an application from Lone Star Gas Co. for a renewal of a 25-year franchise to furnish and supply gas to the City of Cameron.

Work also was noted on installation of new gas lines along the length of East Eighth St. from North Washington to North Jackson.

A paving and curb-gutter program is scheduled for E. Eighth St. when weather allows.

ART, LIBRARY SHOWINGS -- The crowds were heavy and impressed by the $80,000 Cameron Public Library Sunday afternoon. Here, part of the estimated thousand persons view the art show of local artists displayed in the Exhibit - Meeting Room at the east side of the building. Library board officials and their wives welcomed the visitors while Yoe High School band played on the north side Library Patio. Reception was complete with refreshments for the throng. The Library is now regularly open on a 27½ hour week.

1,000 TOUR NEW LIBRARY SUNDAY P. M.

Cameron Public Library is open at its beautiful new location at Third and Milam following a formal opening Sunday afternoon that attracted an estimated 1,000 visitors.

Mrs. W. O. Triggs cut the ribbon that officially opened the 4,000-square-foot facility to Cameron area readers.

Plans are already underway for the purchase of additional books with about $3,000 in funds given during the local drive.

During the reception Sunday afternoon, hundreds of visitors viewed an exhibit of art by Cameron area artisits and enjoyed refreshments served by Cameron Library Board hosts.

The Yoe High School band, under the direction of Francis Cox, played a variety of numbers on the patio during the earlier part of the three-hour open house.

District Judge W. C. Wallace welcomed several hundred onlookers to the ribbon cutting ceremony. He introduced E. A. Ferrin, building chairman, who outlined briefly the program of work culminating in the new structure. He introduced H. Kenneth Jackson, director of Texas Library field services division; H. H. Coffield, general contractor, and David Carnahan, Waco architect who designed the building.

Mayor Bassel Wilson cited the new library as one of several new facilities setting a progressive pace in Cameron.

Judge Wallace then introduced Miss Mildred Thornton, Library board president, who acknowledged the efforts of Mrs. W. O. Triggs and Oxsheer Smith in the library program, and turned over the scissors for Mrs. Triggs to snip the ribbon.

Inside, the crowd of visitors saw modern birch shelving soon to receive additional volumnes in the $80,000 structure made possible by $40,000 in federal funds through the Texas Library system, and almost $44,000 donated by present and former residents of Cameron.

About 20 area artists had work on display in the Meeting room at the east side of the building.

Junior Broiler Show Saturday

Milam County's Junior Broiler Contest which began its eight week growing period March 25 will hold the show, contest, and awards banquet on Saturday, May 21.

Each year the program is sponsored by the Cameron Chamber and includes growers from over the county sponsored by individuals and businesses. Each sponsor pays for the initial flock of 50 baby chicks and after the 8 week growing period, the grower selects the five best broilers to enter in the show. On the evening of the same day, an awards banquet is held at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. Sponsors will meet growers there and hear the results of the judging.

C. B. Ryan, of the Poultry Department of Texas A & M University will judge the entries.

Location of the show will be the Dusek Building on East First Street. (Same location as last year) and growers should have their broilers in the coops by 8:30 a.m. Between 8:30 a.m. and 9 a.m., growers will participate in a Junior Judging Contest when they will judge the broilers by observation. An award will be given for the best judge in the puliet and in the cockeral division.

Fredwill Hornung is chairman of the Broiler Show and Contest and other members of the committee are: Charles Brady, Leo Fuchs Bill Arthur, Monroe Fuchs, Gus Elley, Allen Dodson, J. D. Moore, Ronald Bailey, and Cornelius Titsworth.

In conjunction with the broiler show, there will be a mall display of cars, trucks, farm implements, feed and seed products on North Central Street. Arrangements for the mall displays are being handled by the trade development committee of the Chamber, with Dr. John Martin and Tommy Chamberlain in charge.

CIF COLLECTS $34,050 FOR THIRD OF GOAL

A total of $34,050 has been pledged or collected by Cameron Industrial Foundation, Inc., workers by presstime Wednesday, Henry Siebman, CIF secretary-treasurer reported.

Goal of the drive is $100,000 for purchase of land, developing and promoting the industrial site and establishing a building reserve fund.

Siebman told The Herald that a number of large donors have yet to be reported and out-of-town contacts among businesses operating in Cameron have only begun.

Thus, more than one-third of the goal had been reached in only the third week of the drive. Some industrial drives for equal amounts or larger amounts in larger amounts have taken up to two years.

The non-profit Foundation proposes the following for the $100,000 community investment:

ONE -- $40,000 -- purchase of land and preparation for use, including cost of land, water sewerage, utility lines, leveling, roadways and site incidentals.

TWO -- $35,000 -- Promotion of the industrial site, meaning employment of professional assistance, advertising in trade journals and engineering for prospects.

THREE -- $25,000 -- Building fund reserve, meaning a reserve for initiating and financing facilities for lease or sale to any industrial activity beneficial to the Cameron area.

Directors met again Monday for a reporting session and picking up more prospect cards. Organization is also being considered to contact individuals and employee groups throughout the Cameron area.

A special invitation to the anniversary service has been extended to the community and former members of the congregation.

107 With FML

Not much to it.

Things went dark as well as blank as the deadlines rolled near. Though not electric, the typewriter couldn't think.

Cameron experienced about an hour and half power failure, first in many a year for most of the town at one time.

Seems one line sheared through several at the Cameron sub-station and crewmen had to rework several like a very wet game of untangle the spaghetti.

We're sure it wasn't that simple. for nothing really is.

Rogers Man, 31 Charged In Death Of Wife Sunday

Brack Daniels, 31, Negro formerly of Cameron, and now of P. O. Box 33, Rogers, has been charged with murder with malice in Temple Justice Doyle Lambert's JP Court.

Daniels is charged in connection with the shooting death of Mrs. Daisie Daniels, 23, his wife, who was found dead late Sunday afternoon at the couple's Rogers home.

Daniels is in Bell County Jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond set after his arraignment before Justice Lambert in Rogers Sunday afternoon.

Four bullets were found during an autopsy Wednesday morning, according to Bell Deputy Sheriff Bruce Casteel.

Casteel said the shooting apparently occurred about 5 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the Rogers couple's home. He said there were no witnesses, though the Daniels seven children were outside the house at the time.

Mrs. Daniels was rushed to Newton Memorial Hospital by Rogers ambulance, and pronounced dead on arrival by a physician there.

Funeral services and burial were held 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in Rogers for Mrs. Daniels.

Casteel said a 22-cal. Rohm pistol was found at the house in Rogers. He said he picked up Daniels, who had accompanied his wife in the ambulance to Cameron, at Cameron Police Dept.

Daniels was arraigned before Cameron Justice Jess Brock later Sunday. County-Atty John C. Henderson, Jr. advised Daniels of his rights under the law. Casteel said Daniels waived examining trial at the time.

Rogers Marshal Frank Tucker notified Bell County Sheriff's Dept. of the shooting. And Casteel came to Cameron to investigate before returning to Rogers with Daniels.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Cameron, Texas:

SECTION 1. That the City of Cameron, Texas, hereinafter called "City," hereby grants to Lone Star Gas Company, hereinafter called "Company," its successors and assigns, consent to use and occupy the present and future streets, alleys, highways, public places, public thoroughfares and grounds of City for the purpose of laying, maintaining, constructing, operating and replacing therein and thereon pipelines and all other appurtenant, equipment needed and necessary to deliver and sell gas to persons, firms and corporations, including all the general public, within the City's corporate limits and the environs thereof, said consent being granted for a term of twenty-five (25) years from and after the date of the final passage and approval of this ordinance.

SECTION 2. Company shall lay, maintain, construct, operate and replace its pipes, mains, laterals and other equipment so as to interfere as little as possible with traffic and shall promptly clean up and restore to an approximate original condition, at its cost, all thoroughfares and other surfaces which it may disturb. The location of all mains, pipes, laterals and other appurtenant equipment shall be fixed under the supervision of the City Council or an authorized committee or agent appointed by said Council.

SECTION 3. When Company shall make or cause to be made excavations or shall place obstructions in any street, alley or other public place, the public shall be protected by barriers and lights placed, erected and maintained by Company; and in the event of injury to any person or damage to any property by reason of the construction, operation or maintenance of the gas distributing plant or system of Company, Company shall indemnify and keep harmless City from any and all liability in connection therewith. Company shall repair, clean up and restore to an approximate original condition all streets and alleys disturbed during the construction and repair of its gas distributing system.

SECTION 4. In addition to the rates charged for gas supplied, Company may make and enforce reasonable charges, rules and regulations for service rendered in the conduct of its business, including a charge for services rendered in the inauguration of natural gas service, and may require, before furnishing service, the execution of a contract therefor. Company shall have the right to contract with each customer with reference to the installation of, and payment for, any and all of the gas piping from the connection thereof with the Company's main in the streets or alleys to and throughout the consumer's premises. Company shall own, operate and maintain all service lines which are defined as the supply lines from the Company's main to the consumer's curb line when mains are located in the streets and to the consumer's property line when mains are located in the alley. The consumer shall own, operate and maintain all yard lines and house piping. Yard lines are defined as the underground supply lines extending from the point of connection with Company's service line to the point of connection with consumer's house piping.

SECTION 5. Company shall not be required to extend mains longitudinally on any street more than fifty (50) feet for any one consumer of gas; nor shall Company be required to connect consumers to intermediate or high-pressure lines.

SECTION 6. Company shall be entitled to require from each and every consumer of gas, before gas service is commenced, a deposit of twice the amount of an estimated average monthly bill, which said deposit may be retained by Company until service is discontinued and all bills therefor have been paid. Company shall then return said deposit to the consumer, together with six percent (6 percent) interest thereon from the date of said deposit up to the date of discontinuance of service. Company shall be entitled to apply said deposit, with accrued interest, to any indebtedness owed Company by the consumer making the deposit.

SECTION 7. The rights, privileges and franchises granted by this ordinance are not to be considered exclusive, and City hereby expressly reserves the right to grant, at any time, like privileges, right and franchises as it may see fit to any other person or corporation for the purpose of furnishing gas for light, heart and power to and for City and the inhabitants thereof.

SECTION 8. Company shall furnish reasonably adequate service to the public at reasonable rates and charges therefor; and Company shall maintain its property, equipment and appliances in good order and condition.

SECTION 9. Company, its successors and assigns, agrees to pay and City agrees to accept, on or before the 1st day of September, 1966, and on or before the same day of each succeeding year during the life of this franchise up to and including the year 1990, a sum of money which shall be equivalent to two percent (2 percent) of the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas to its domestic and commercial consumers within the corporate limits of said City (expressly excluding, however, receipts derived from sales to industrial and governmental users and consumers in said City) for the preceding calendar year, which annual payment shall be for the rights and privileges herein granted to Company, including expressly, without limitation, the right to use the streets, alleys and public ways of said City. And it is also expressly agreed that the aforesaid annual payment shall be in lieu of any and all other and additional occupation taxes, easement and franchise taxes, or charges (whether levied as an ad valorem, special or other character of tax or charge), in lieu of municipal license and inspection fees, street taxes and street or alley rentals or charges, and all other and additional municipal taxes, charges, levies, fees and rentals of whatsoever kind and character which City may impose or hereafter be authorized to levy and collect, excepting only the usual general or special ad valorem taxes, which City is authorized to levy and impose upon real and personal property. Should City not have the legal power to agree that the payment of the foregoing sums of money shall be in lieu of taxes, licenses, fees, street or alley rentals or charges, easement or franchise taxes or charges aforesaid, then City agrees that it will apply so much of said sums of money paid as may be necessary to satisfy Company's obligations, if any, to pay any such taxes, licenses, charges, fees, rentals, easement or franchise taxes or charges.

In order to determine the gross receipts received by Company from the sale of gas (expressly excluding the sale of gas to industrial and governmental consumers) within the corporate limits of City, Company agrees that on the same date that payments are made as provided in the preceding paragraph of this Section 9, it will file with the City Clerk a sworn report showing the gross receipts received from the sale of gas to its domestic and commercial consumers within said corporate limits for the calendar year preceding the date of payment. City may, if it sees fit, have the books and records of Company examined by a representative of said City to ascertain the correctness of the sworn reports agreed to be filed herein.

Receipts from sales to governmental users or consumers shall include all those receipts derived from the sale of gas to federal, state, county or city governments or branches and subdivisions thereof, school districts or other similar districts, it being the intention to include within the term "governmental users and consumers" all tax-supported institutions owned or operated directly or indirectly by said governments and branches or subdivisions thereof, such as schools, colleges, hospitals, eleemosynary institutions, army or training campus, airports, courthouse, city hall and other institutions of like or similar kind and character.

"Industrial users or consumers," as herein used, are those generally and commonly clasisfied as such by Company.

The payment herein provided shall be for the period January 1 to December 31 of the respective year that the payment is made.

Employment For Older Citizens

Job seekers of all ages find that a positive attitude is a necessary ingredient for success.

"This positive approach is especially important for older citizens," says Miss Leota Lane, Texas A&M University Extension specialist in family life education.

Job seeking is a business. Senior citizens who wish to find employment related to their skills should remember this as they prepare for job interviews. Approach each interview with an eagerness to be of help to the company or individual for whom you wish to wok. Explain pevious wok exwork. Explain previous work experiences which you feel would qualify you for the position you are seeking.

Arouse the interviewer's interest by your neat appearnce and cheerful disposition, suggests Miss Lane. Answer questions directly and briefly. Speak with confidence and avoid criticizing previous employers or associates.

Accept problems of age or circumstances as a challenge. Leave your personal problems at home when you prepare for a job interview. Many job applicants have found that the art of listening may mean the difference between success and failure in job-seeking.

"Develop a positive attitude toward the contributions you can make on a job, dress carefully and neatly, and be interested in how you can assist in the position you seek. These guides should make job-seeking easier, regardless of the age factor," Miss Lane emphasizes.

Assistance in job-finding is available from the Texas Employment Commission. And local offices are prepared to provide the same assistance to older workers that are provided for younger people. An older worker specialist directs efforts of the TEC offices in helping to locate the best possible job for mature men and women.

Mrs. Rasor not only combined the care of her family with studies for her law degree, she also tied with Harward law graduate David Schlanger of Houston for highest grade among 137 persons who took the March Bar examination.

The new lawyers were welcomed into the legal profession Thursday by State Bar President Clint C. Small Jr. of Austin with responses by Mrs. Rasor and Schlanger. They were also were honored at a luncheon at the Commodore Perry Hotel and a reception by the State Bar of Texas at Bar headquarters.

She combines her journalism background with law as an assistant professor at Southern Methodist University School of Law, teaching legal writing.

In an interview which appeared in the Dallas Morning News recently, Mrs. Rasor spoke enthusiastically about her new career. "There's no reason why deeds or wills cannot be written so that they are understandable to the man who signs them," expressing her belief that lawyers should adopt simple, direct language, especially when corresponding with clients.

Mrs. Rasor is the wife of Mac Ray Razor, formerly with Associated Press and now public relations director for Southwestern Life Insurance Company of Dallas. There three children are Graham Rasor, 14, Danny Rasor, 11, and Nancy Rasor, 9.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Do you enjoy "hitting the bottle?" Same here!

But we're not talking apout the indoor pastime of guzzling liquor.

We're talking about that great outdoor sport of target practice

It's worlds of fun to fire a .22 rifle or pistol. It's even more thrilling to hit the target dead center and see it explode fragments in all directions.

Of course, you have to go outside -- even out of town to partake of this pleasure. But surely you have a friend, or a friend who has a friend, who has some acreage, a farm, or ranch, or lake place where you can test your talents as a marksman.

Pick a spot where there's a high bluff, if possible, or a steep hillside, or a solid backstop of some kind. Don't shoot over water or at the water or where the bullets might at any time skip across a pond or lake. That's about as dangerous a stunt as you could pull.

A second precaution -- don't load the gun until you're ready to fire.

And don't point it at anything that you don't want to shoot.

Shooting can be a great pleasure, but it's no fun to injure someone through oversight or carelessness.

So be careful!

Gather up a batch of old nonreturnable beer bottles or cans. They make excellent targets.

We prefer to build a dirt mound in front of the back stop -- just dirt, no rocks -- so that the target pieces will collect around the mound. There they can be picked up with ease and disposed of readily.

Note that we said "dirt mound." No rocks, or stones or metallic objects that might deflect a bullet and send it whining over the hilltop and injure someone.

A good feature of the dirt mound is that low or wide shots will imbed themselves in the dirt and stop there harmlessly.

Usually we will space the bottles on the top of the mound, 10 or 15 bottles to the row, and see how fast we can take them -- one after another.

While glass bottles perhaps provide the greater thrill, metal cans last longest. It takes quite a collection of both to provide an hour's entertainment for four or five shooters.

Youngsters like to collect these types of targets, especially if they are going to be in on the shooting. A little reward money will speed up the collection, too.

New York Met Baseball Try-Out Camp June 2 - 4

The annual New York Met major league try-out camp in Rockdale has been scheduled June 2, 3 and 4, according to an announcement by Red Murff, Texas and Louisiana scouting supervisor for the Mets.

Murff, who has directed the annual camp at Rockdale for the Mets since 1961, will again serve as director. The camp is open to boys 12 through 21 years of age.

Murff's staff of instructors at the camp will include Dell Baker, Trinity University baseball coach; Leroy Dreyer, Blinn College baseball coach; Bill Dorsey, Tom Bridges, Joe White and Wade Fatheree, all Met scouts in Texas; and Ernie Laurence, Rockdale High School baseball coach.

Murff emphasized that a high school or college athlete's eligibility will not be jeopardized by participation in the camp. "Our tryout camps are conducted in accordance with professional baseball's American Legion rule, whereby Legion players must present written permission from the post commander to take part in the camp," Murff said.

He also explained that the camp abides by professional baseball's college and high school rules which are agreements with the NCAA and NAIA and also the interscholastic leagues or other governing bodies for high school athletics in all 50 states.

Murff said that in previous years, try-out camps such as the Rockdale camp resulted in the signing of many athletes now playing pro ball. Murff, who was a Houston Astro scout prior to 1963, has personally signed John Bateman and Charlie Harrison of the Astros and Ken Boswell, David Brasier and John Glass of the Mets.

Murff estimated that at least 50 college baseball scholarships have been awarded during the five previous Rockdale camps.

OUTDOOR TIPS

KNIFE SAFETY--Don't risk losing a good fishing knife overboard. Drill a small hole in the handle, attach a short length of line and a cork or plastic float so it will float if dropped overboard.

DE-KINKING "MONO"--You can remove the coil set from monofilament line by washing it in mild soapy water and then stretch and dry it in the shade.

NYLON CARE--Nylon rope on your boat trailer winch won't rot, but be careful of rust gathering on the winch sides and spindle. This rust can cut nylon.

Occasionally remove the nylon rope from the winch. Carefully sand the spindle and sides and coat with a rust resistent paint.

WINCH CAUTION -- Before putting a strain on your boat trailer winch be sure the anti-reverse gear is engaged. A wildly spinning winch handle can badly bark knuckles and even break fingers.

SWIFT-WATER FISHING--You can fish fast-current water without having to use a pound of weight to reach bottom. Simply cast ahead and into the current. Your baited hook will reach bottom by the time the current carries it across in front of you.

STAR-DRAG CARE--When storing a star-drag reel, always completely back off the tension. Prolong storage with the drag tightened down will ruin the drag discs, causing them to chatter and slip when again put to use.

SENSIBLE ADVICE FOR SUN WORSHIPPERS

Unless you use a good protective lotion or cream you may get a serious burn or an aging skin. Start now, before the sun reaches its higher intensity. Liberally apply one before exposure. Do not rub it in forcibly. Pat it gently on the skin so that the sun screening chemical, good products contain, remains on the skin's surface to ward off the ultraviolet rays.

Wear good sunglasses to protect your eyes. After sun exposure apply a nourishing cream to replace the natural oil your skin loses.

We are sun protection experts. We carry complete stocks of your favorite brands, but have also studied this problem and will gradly give you our information opinion of the effectiveness of any product.

WHEAT ALLOTMENT INCREASE

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman on May 5 announced a 15 percent increase in the national acreage allotment for wheat for 1967 crop.. This represents a reg. allotment of 55 million acres plus small farm increases to bring the effective allotment to 59.3 million acres. The effective allotment in 1966 was 51.6 million acres.

Paper Furniture Is New Concept In Home Furnishings

COLLEGE STATION

One of the new design concepts in home furnishings is paper furniture, says Mrs. Jane Berry, Texas A&M University Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

The paper furniture has been developed with the idea to serve a temporary furnishings need--then be discarded.

Among designs currently available are chairs for both adults and children, cardboard storage bins for toys and other items and vinyl-processed paper rugs.

Researchers who tested the product interviewed 54 parents who participated in the consumer preference approach to use of paper furniture. The couples were questioned regarding acceptance of a child's scoop sett made of polyethylene-coated cardboard.

Nearly half the parents agreed that the paper chair looked strong. After handling and testing, more than three-fourths agreed that the chair actually felt strong. More than 70 percent agreed that the design and general appearance of the chair was acceptable.

The parents indicated that the playroom, bedroom and porch were areas where the chair would be used most often.

These new paper furnishings are frequently of a good design and priced low enough that owners do not mind destroying them when they have served their purpose, says Mrs. Berry.

DON'T PANIC

Swarms of winged termites in the home is no cause for panic. But it is good evidence that a well established colony of the insects is nearby, says Phil Hamman, assistant Extension entomologist at Texas A&M University. The swarm may have come from a nearby location. Hamman suggests that a thorough search for the location of the colony be made, and when found, that control measures be applied. Local county agents, he adds, can supply control information. Spring is swarm time.

County Agent's Notes

Trees, Plants Need Spraying

By J. D. Moore

When to spray pecan trees for casebearer. is a technical question and is determined by the development of the casebearer. This insect passes the winter as a partially grown larva. In the spring, the larva feed for a short time on buds after which they pupate. The moths that lay the eggs to start the damaging generation emerge in late April and May. About 10 to 12 days after the moths emerge, we start to looking for the tiny worms that bore into the small pecans.

Those trained in this field expect casebearer activity about the 15th of May. However, due to the cool weather, casebearer development will likely be delayed for at least a week. We are alerting our pecan growers to examine their trees daily during the week of May 15 to 20. Our guess is that May 20 will be about right for spraying pecan trees. The public is encouraged to stay in contact with the couny agen's office for more accurate information on this subject.

SPRAY COTTON NOW - All seedling cotton that was not treated with a systemic at planting time needs an application of 2-1 spray to control the thrips. Most seedling cotton examined shows heavy thrip damage.

BAG WORMS ON CEDARS - Those with any form of cedar trees should spray with Sevin or Toxaphene-DDT at the rate of 2 tablespoons per gallon of water to control the worms while they are small.

WHITE FLIES, MEALY BUGS, ETC. - These insects on shrubbery may be controlled by spraying with Diazinon at the rate of 2 tablespoons per gallon of water. Two or more applications at weekly intervals may be necessary to eliminate the white flies, frequently a pest on Gardenia and other shrubs. Spraying guides for most all insects are available at the county agents office in Cameron.

Research work at Texas A&M Univeristy's Prairie View Experiment Station dealing with skin grafting on baby chicks is being watched for possible application to skin grafting in humans. Dr. R. W. Lewis, poultry nutritionist, is using drugs to increase body acceptance of skin grafts between unrelated chickens. Permanent skin grafts can be made in humans and animals that are genetically identical but the human and animal body rejects skin from another person or animal, except an identical twin or highly inbred animal.

Don't make these mistakes growing cotton...

1. DON'T "wait and see" how many insects crowd onto your plants before you start applying insecticides!

2. DON'T buy some "miracle material" that does wonders inside the leaves but never gets inside the squares where the real damage is done!

3. DON'T sit back and hope that some beneficial or "kindly" insects will keep you out of trouble!

4. DON'T let your cotton "go it alone" because it doesn't pay to grow cotton if you have to spray!

Loquacious We Are....

Loquacious we are about the opening of Cameron Public Library.

A considerable crowd of some 1,000 (our estimate, what's yours?) toured the contemporary structure, heard the YHS band and viewed the art display of area artists this Sunday past.

Proud we are, as are the many who saw the planning and culmination of years and thousands of voluntary hours in that structure which beckons the passerby as a symbol of Cameron on the learned move.

Additional contributions of equipment for the 4,000-foot structure were forthcoming Sunday afternoon. And it speaks well of the facility that some half a dozen youngsters were busy prowling its stacks one day early this week.

Out-of-town visitors, including librarians from Austin, Temple and Bryan, and a library architect from Kansas ventured their enthusiasm on such a unique structure that must be a library, in their view, but still surprises when they see its interior.

It proves, without reservation, that a place of enlightenment can be light, and a place of learning can be attractive and conducive to the vital role of reading.

Who among those 1,000 visitors would not say "well done" to the dozen and a half who led the tentative tread down through the years to such a community triumph witnessed this Sunday past?

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State.

Please send me some information concerning Yugoslavia's views on the following subjects: the admission of Communist China to the United Nations, the war in Viet-Nam, and the payment of the United Nations Dues.

J. J.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Miss J.:

The Yugoslav Government has long been in favor of the admission of Communist China to the United Nations. The Yugoslavs see the continued absence of Communist China from the UN forums as detracting from the principle of "universality" of membership. While the Yugoslav press reports various Communist Chinese statements criticizing the UN and says that the Chinese have seemingly themselves rejected any chance at the moment of becoming a UN member, the Yugoslavs maintain that subjecting Chinese policies and representatives to the pressure of world opinion through the UN would serve to modify extreme Chinese policies and actions.

With regard to the war in Viet-Nam, the Yugoslavs call for an end to American bombing of North Viet-Nam, which they maintain is a necessary prelude to negotiations to bring about a peaceful settlement. They declare that the Geneva agreements of 1954 must be the basis of any negotiations on Viet-Nam and that the National Liberation Front must take part in the negotiations. The Yugoslavs have no diplomatic representatives in Hanoi, andn there is no Yogoslav trade with or shipping to North Viet-Nam.

Firm support for the UN has long been a fundamental Yugoslav policy. Consistent with this attitude, the Yugoslavs have paid their dues and have been considering an additional contribution to the UN to help cover the current deficit. A Yugoslav contingent has been part of the United Nations force in the Sinai peninsula for several years, and the Yugoslavs have in other ways given evidence of their support of the UN and its purposes.

Senate Race Draws Interest

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

With a lack luster first Democratic primary behind, state political insiders are looking toward the big general election contest for the U. S. Senate -- and even to a potentially-exciting 1968.

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, the Democratic Senate nominee, and Republican Sen. John G. Tower have their campaign machinery in gear. Both are ranging widely over the state.

Carr bosts of drawing nearly 80 per cent of the May 7 vote in his race against John R. Willoughby, carrying both liberal and conservative areas and rural and metropolitan counties by lopsided margins.

He cites this as evidence the Democratic party will close ranks behind him in the rough race against Tower next November.

Speculation already has started on potential candidates for governor in 1968 if Gov. John Connally steps aside. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith admittedly plans to run for the top job when it opens up. House Speaker Ben Barnes is giv-ing it some thought. Among liberal prospects are U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough and State Sen. Franklin Spears who made the attorney general's runoff against Crawford Martin.

Present Martin-Spears race is the only statewide contest on the June 4 run-off ballot. Martin received about 47 per cent of the first primary vote to 37 per cent for Spears and 16 per cent for Galloway Calhoun. Calhoun has endorsed Martin. Both candidates are beefing up their organizations and replenishing financial resources before their final stump tours and appeals. Getting out the vote again is expected to be a real problem, with so few local runoffs.

Governor Connally scored a clean sweep victory in the May 7 primary and conventions. Not only was he nominated to a third term with 75 per cent of the total vote cast in his race, but his supporters apparently scored overwhelming victory over liberal forces in party conventions.

Only one incumbent was upset. Court of Criminal Appeals Judge W. T. McDonald lost to John F. Onion, San Antonio district judge.

Lieutenant Governor Smith, Railroad Commissioner Byron Tunnell and Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler won hands-down.

Texas' Senate, with no fewer than 10 new faces, will be a more-liberal body than it has been in the past. Lieutenant Gov. Smith says it offers the greatest challenge in history to the presiding officer. One-third of the upper house membership now is from metropolitan counties.

House of Representatives, with a minimum of 54 newcomers, will remain moderate or conservative in tone, with Speaker Barnes retaining firm control of the gavel.

COURTS SPEAK

Striking down a 1965 Texas law, a three-judge federal court held a Vernon farm couple cannot be stopped by the state from selling water under their land to Altus, Oklahoma.

Supreme Court heard lengthy arguments in sulphur company suits to force Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler to file their claims in Pecos County. State attorneys called companies "trespassers." Firms charged Sadler reversed the land office policy in refusing their applications.

Jack Ruby's lawyers, seeking to disqualify trial Judge Joe B. Brown told the Court of Criminal Appeals that Brown performed four judicial acts concerning the convicted slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald after contracting to write a book about the case. If the court disqualifies Brown, Ruby will get a new trial for murder of the presidential assassin. If Brown is found qualified, Ruby will get a sanity hearing in Dallas.

Third Court of Civil Appeals, reversing the lower courts, held that State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert has authority to collect franchise taxes on dividends and interest paid to Texas corporations from out-of-state sources.

AG RULES

Former aliens naturalized as U. S. citizens since the March free voter sign-up may vote this year without registration, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has held. However, election judges were advised to inquire into other qualifications, including age and length of residence.

In other recent opinions, Carr ruled that:

Public employees are entitled to 15 working days leave for military training, regardless of whether duty is on consecutive days.

A defendant is not entitled to calendar time served on a subsequent conviction when the original conviction for the same offense has been set aside and declared void by a federal court.

Atascosa County commissioners can't lease a county-owned building to a furniture manufacturing firm, since public buildings must be devoted to public use.

Special information can be submitted by firms bidding on the sale of cars to the state, showing their car's adaptability to the uses of different agencies.

CATTLE DIPPING COMPLETED

Dippings of scabies-infected cattle in the Texas Panhandle was completed on April 27, according to Dr. S. B. Walker, executive director of Texas Animal Health Commission.

A total of 15,452 head were dipped twice 10 to 14 days apart in an approved manner and solution, while 257 head were dipped once.

Federal quarantine for Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Lamb, Hale Floyd, Motley and Randall Counties still is in effect, though cattle from these counties have undergone state and federal inspection.

A request for release of the federal quarantine is being prepared, Dr. Walker said. Requirements for shipments to other states remain the same.

Dr. Walker praised cooperation which prevented the six Texas outbreaks from spreading.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

In nearly every newspaper I've gotten my hands on in the past two weeks there has been at least one article on the big controversy over whether cars are safe, and while I'd prefer to have the argument going on over whether tractors are safe, if you know what I mean, still I have followed the hearings closely.

According to a report at one session of the Senate Investigating Committee, 8 million cars in the last few years have been found to have defects, out of the 40 or 50 million produced. Of course that included everything, such as a horn that stuck and a windshield wiper that went too slow.

Understand, I'm not in favor of cars' having defects, I'm not even in favor of having one with a tail pipe that'll rust out or oil that needs changing and I think a fender ought to snap back into place when you graze it on a fence post, but you can carry statistics too far.

For example, I would not be interested in seeing a Senate Investigating Committee come up with the figures on how many human beings have defects.

Out of the 200 million people produced in this country in the last decade, how many of us you reckon would really pass a safety inspection?

If checking up on that many people is too big a job for the Senate and it decided to narrow the field and get closer othome, how many Senators you reckon would show up without a defect?

I don't have the figures, but it would be interesting to see which are multiplying faster, garages or hospitals. At any given moment, are there more cars in garages than people in hospitals?

I'm not saying I'm typical, but out of the next 365 days, there will be more days when my car and my tractor are in better shape to start than I am.

But let's keep talking about car defects. Anything to get the spotlight off of human defects.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

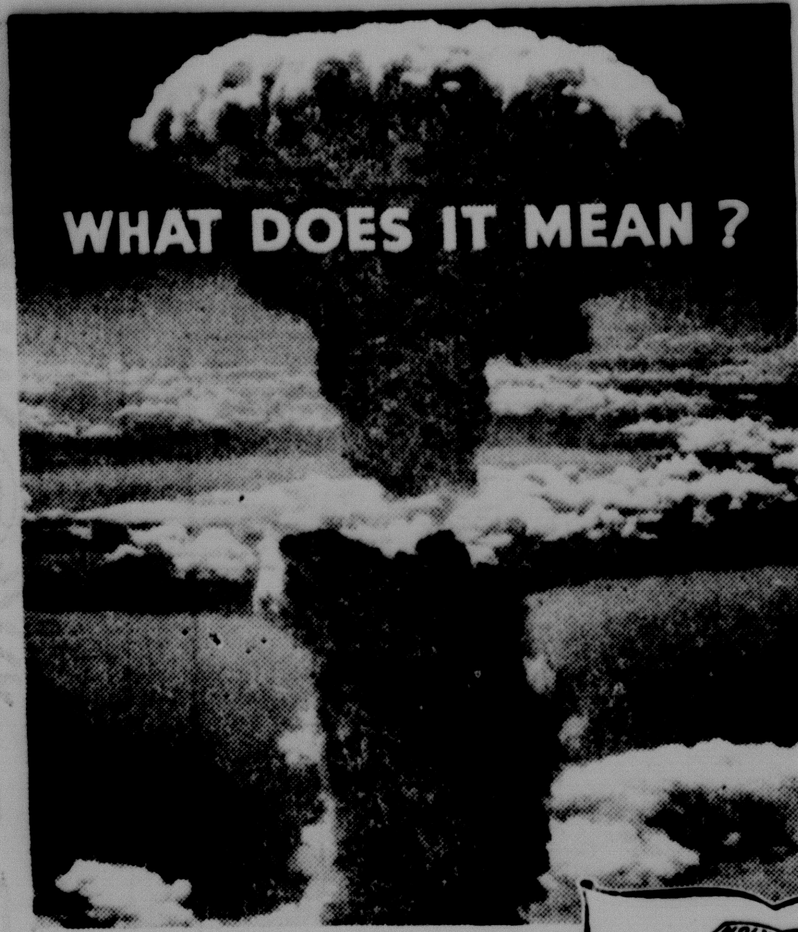
TAKE YOUR PROBLEMS TO CHURCH THIS WEEK

Millions Leave Them There!



Frightening, isn't it? You see a picture like this and suddenly you feel as if you are standing at the edge of a chasm in the dark. You are confronted with the threat of the unknown, and you don't like it.

Why, you wonder, does it have to be like this? Why can't men live together in peace?

We all need the courage to face the unknown future unafraid. We need to find and to develop love, understanding, and peace of mind. But to attain our goal, we need help. That help can be found in the Church, which gives us Faith.

On World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's Hope is to be found.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Business Honorary Elects Miss Schiller

WACO

Peggy Jo Schiller of Cameron has been initiated into the Delta of Texas Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma at Baylor University's Hankamer School of Business.

Membership in the honorary society of the collegiate schools of business is on the basis of a superior academic record. Members are from the upper 10 per cent of graduating seniors, the upper 4 per cent of juniors and the upper 20 per cent of graduate students.

The new members were honored at a reception attended by Baylor President Abner V. McCall; Dr. Aldon S. Lang, dean of the Hankamer School of Business; and Baylor faculty members, members of Beta Gamma Sigma and other special guests.

Miss Schiller, a senior business major, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schiller of 711 E. 11th in Cameron. She also recently was named the most outstanding senior business education student at Baylor.

PEACH AND PLUM LOOKS GOOD

Bluefford Hancock, Extension horticulturist at Texas A&M University, says reports from major producing areas of the state indicate bumper peach and plum crops. Moisture conditions are excellent and a heavy set of fruit is on the trees, he said. To insure high quality fruit, growers are advised to begin thinning.

WIDE AREA FISHING—In fast moving water let the current work your lure. By simply moving your rod tip from side to side, stretching out as far as you can reach to either side, you can cover approximately 18 feet of water.

Also occasionally throw your reel into free spool and allow the current to carry the lure back 15 to 25 feet.

USE DULL SINKER—When trolling never use a new sinker with a bright shine. Fish will often strike at it instead of the lure. With fish that have sharp teeth, the "sinker strike" will result in you losing a lot of lures.

What makes the Morton Man run?

You do

You want your potato chips big and whole. You want them fresh, light and crrr-unchy. You want them in the greatest possible variety of tastes. Right? Your "Morton Man" thinks so, and he's determined to give you what you want, from Morton's new crop of bigger and better potatoes! There are hundreds of "Morton Men", running like crazy to give you over 150 million fresh bags every year. Next time you see your "Morton Man", say hello to him... but it'll have to be on the run!

THE FAMILY LAWYER

PUSHING ANOTHER CAR

Trapped in a tight parking space, a motorist decided to push against the car behind him. He glanced into his rear view mirror, then started moving backward.

Unhappily, his quick look hadn't shown that the woman who owned the other car was just opening her door to get in. As he pushed her car, the open door struck and injured the woman.

She sued later for damages, and the man was held liable for his failure to take a better look before pushing.

"Such a maneuver," said the court, "is dangerous and should not be undertaken until safety has been made reasonably certain."

Whenever you set a second car in motion with your own car, you suddenly expand the scope of your responsibility. One judge put it this way:

"In so handling two cars, the driver must be as mentally alert and as physically responsive as a western cowboy riding two horses Roman fashion."

On the other hand, pushing another car is not wrong if you proceed with care. Even if there is an accident, you are ordinarily not liable if you were not negligent. For example:

A kindly motorist offered a push to a man whose car had stalled in the street. After pushing it about 20 feet, he let the front car roll ahead on its own momentum. The driver reached the corner, turned—and hit a woman pedestrian.

In due course the injured woman sued the good Samaritan, arguing that he had provided the original impetus to the car that struck her. But a court held him not liable, since the accident happened after he had broken off "control" of the front car.

As a rule you may assume, in pushing, that not only the other driver but also the car itself will behave in a normal manner. Consider another tight-parking-space case:

Here, the motorist nudged the car ahead, little suspecting that it had been left in gear with the ignition on. The motor caught—and, as he watched in helpless horror, the car crossed the street and crunched through a plate glass window.

But again, the motorist was held not liable for the damage done, since the front car's behavior was so unexpected.

Thus, in judging your liability for pushing another car, the law requires you to allow for dangers that may fairly be anticipated—but nothing more. The law demands foresight. It does not demand clairvoyance.

7. Do you feel it is effective to "shock" the man in your life with criticism, suggestions or threats?	( )	( )
8. Do you use physical affection as a means to get your way?	( )	( )
9. Can you smile inwardly when he claims one of your ideas as his own?	( )	( )
10. Can you graciously, sincerely give praise when it is due to the man in your life?	( )	( )

DESIRABLE ANSWERS:

1. No. Men, brought up to be strong, tend to feel that any flaw they find in themselves might be weakness. Therefore, they are not as self-analytical as women.
2. Yes. And for the same reason as above.
3. No. Men of today are surrounded by pressures of success, usually of a business and monetary nature. They are haunted by status symbols and the need for better and more, material things. Any failure in his capacity to be a man, e.g. his sexual capacity, job, athletic prowess, is likely to leave him feeling he is a failure.
4. No. Even as children, boys are more dominant than girls. Males tend to be aggressive in order to protect their ego and more resentful of discipline.
5. No. In most societies, a woman has many more outlets in which to find success - housekeeping, civic affairs, motherhood, hobbies - than a man. In the pattern of being a man, his usual yardstick is his accomplishments in business.
6. Yes. Psychological evidence points to the fact that women are more sensitive, more perceptive and intuitive than men. Male intelligence is more systematic, logically and graphic than womans.
7. No. Timing and approach are vital. Pose your ideas wisely - after dinner when there is no great rush, or after a movie that perhaps has the ingredients of the situation you wish to change. Use the positive approach remembering the male psyche with which you are dealing. (Read answers 1 through 6 again.)
8. No. The use of physical affection as a reward - or punishment is an infantile approach to a problem. Warmth and affection must be natural. You are dealing with a human being, not training a seal to jump through a hoop.
9. Yes. Because men need to be masterful, anything they wish to do willingly they usually think is of their own choosing. When the man in your life, takes your ideas as his own, be pleased. You have been a great artist in your subtle salesmanship.
10. Yes. You know how much praise means to you. For most men it is doubly valued because of their intense need to have their drive of success (with its few outlets) satisfied.

Conservationist Says Watersheds Proved Worth In Heavy Rains

"Never before has the upstream watershed protection and flood prevention programs in Texas been tested so extensively and thoroughly, and never before has proof of adequacy been so evident," says H. N. Smith, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, in commenting on the torrential April rains.

Smith went on to point out that extremely heavy rains fell over large areas of the state April 17-28. Rainfall ranged from 8 inches near Dublin to more than 25 inches in the Marshall-Gladewater area.

Heavy flood damage occurred in agrilcultural and urgan areas alike. Damages to roads, bridges and utilities ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars. The Texas State Highway Department reported damages to highways totaled almost one million dollars. More than a dozen Texas counties were declared disaster areas because of flood damage. Total damage estimates, still incomplete, range upward of $15,000,000.

Only minor flooding was noted on watersheds where upstream watershed protection and flood prevention programs were substantially completed. All of the approximately 1100 completed floodwater retarding dams in Texas caught and held some floodwater.

About 820 completed dams are located in North Central and Northeast Texas where rains were heaviest. It is estimated these structures held back over 600,000 acre-feet of floodwater and released it downstream over a period of several days. The holding back of this much water in watersheds on which the dams are located prevented damages being several times heavier than they actually were to crops, livestock, fences, roads, bridges and urban areas.

An outstanding example of the benefits of a completely installed watershed protection program was on Cow Bayou which runs through McLennan and Falls Counties. This project, in addition to land treatment, includes 29 floodwater retarding dams and 11 critical sediment areas. All measures in the watershed are completed. No flooding and no damages occurred. Without the program on this watershed it is estimated damages would have totaled $104,000 during April alone.

Even partially completed watershed construction on the Tehuacana Creek watershed east of Waco was effective. The work plan calls for 30 floodwater retarding dams and about 12 miles of stream channel improvement. Thirteen dams have been completed; no channel work has been done. During the heaviest rains, 11,000 acres were flooded with damages estimated at $412,000. It is estimated without any dams completed, 15,000 acres would have been flooded with damages in excess of $620,000. The partly completed project reduced damages by about 35 percent or approximately $208,000. If all floodwater retarding structures and channel work had been completed, damages would have been reduced another 35 percent and would have totaled only about $211,000 instead of $620,000.

"Land treatment such as terraces, waterways, cove crops and good grass in pastures reduced land damage and kept thousands of tons of dirt, mud and silt from moving on to fertile bottomland and into downstream reservoirs. These benefits were in addition to over five million dollars additional flood damage that would have occurred had the 1100 floodwater retarding dams not been built," Smith concluded.

Pecan Spraying Demonstration

There will be a Pecan tree spraying demonstration at M. S. Pugh's residence, 613 West Cameron St. in Rockdale, Saturday, May 21, at 10 a. m. The demonstration will be put on by county agent J. D. Moore and Pugh, and will show how to control the pecan nut case-bearer. This is the small worm that bores into the pecans and is considered our most serious pecan pest.

Pupae of this insect were taken from trees banded by Anton Anderle, whose trees are on Sandy Creek between Cameron and Rockdale, and placed in a glass jar to determine when the adult moth would appear.

These pupae hatched from May 13 to May 15 and indicate to us the expected egg laying period of the moth in this area. Two or three days after the adults emerge, they deposit from 50 to 100 eggs. The first generation larvae hatch from the eggs in 4 or 5 days and start feeding on the pecans. Based on this information, the expected spraying date will be from May 20 to May 25.

The public is invited to attend this demonstration. Those interested in having their pecan trees sprayed should make these arrangements this week.
